

I thank GOD for the do not call list. Before the list We used to get as many as 6 calls a day from sales men. They would keep calling even if you asked them not to. I'm not kidding. I hate the telephone. I only use it when it is absolutley necessary. It would be a unjust cause to revoke the do not call act. We should all have the freedom to choose how we wish to be addressed by sales people in the quiet and peacefullness of our homes.
